A word to those who may be strangers to our establishment and manner of conducting business: We have claimed, and justly too, that our advantages over our competitors in buying are as five to one. We do not claim this from any disposition to boast of ourselves, but rather offer it in explanation of the course adopted by our competitors in departing from a legitimate business

We do not advertise ourselves as "Direct Importers," and at the same time draw our supplies from the Auction Rooms of San Francisco. We do not make the "magnanimous" offer of a few insignificant articles at a sacrifice, to inform customers when they call that they are "All Sold," and then direct their attention to goods 25 per cent. above market values. Their diligence, their docility, their neatness, and various other alleged good qualities, have been enthusiastically described, for the most part by tourists who had no practical experience of the subject. As a matter of fact, however, the housekeepers of California who employ Chinese find in them few or none of these virtues. There are of WASHINGTON, May 10th.-Indications for Pacific land. It may be accepted as a fact that the California housekeepers would gladly part with their Chinese servants if they could get their housework done by white girls, and that they would much rather spend time in teaching the latter than in instructing Chinese. SANITARY PLUMBING.

It has been well ascertained that a great deal of sickness is caused by the introduction of sewer gas into houses through defective plumbing. All forms of malarious diseases are thus disseminated, and as the poisonous gas possesses no odor, the majority of householders fall into the mistake of supposing that where there is no perceptible bad smell there can be no danger. No doubt sewer gas is liable to be present where a strong smell of drains is percepto what constitutes sanitary plumbing, it the last officer to get on the steamer. In Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia, such a law as Dr. Tyrrel proposes has been enacted, and with practical good results. Of course in towns and cities which are virtually or completely destitute of a sewerage system, but little can be done to prevent the dissemination of sewer gas by the pipes connecting the houses with cesspools. In those cities experience, in the form of high death rates and a low average of health, will apparently be needed to convince the too conservative public that there is really some-

It is related that one of the jury which recently found a man guilty of murder in Illinois has since asserted that he was forced into signing the verdict by having a sick child at home and wishing to return to it quickly. He has a quickened conscience now and is very penitent, as he claims that he was in favor of sending the accused man to the State Prison.

Louis Bosch, aged 13, rose in a Taunton, Mass., Court, while George Whitwell was on trial for assault on a woman, and, with tears streaming down his cheeks, declared himself the real criminal. He had been hired to knock to knock the woman down in the dark, and did it brutally; but his conscience would not let him see an inno ent man convicted.

They had barely satisfied their hunger before a constable came in and arrested the thief. The rapid and enormous growth of the LADIES' DAY!

These columns recently contained a description, written by a New York reporter, of the Factory of MESSRS. J. & T. COUSINS, makers of LADIES' FINE SHOES. No one could have read the article in question without wondering at the amount of care and pains bestowed by this firm in making their goods. But it is through this watchfulness in detecting and rejecting all imperfect materials, and in subjecting each pair of Shoes to the closest personal examination, and in many other unusual ways seeking to make their goods perfect, that they have won such an enviable name. In offering their Shoes for sale, we are therefore certain that they are equal to any in the market in style, fit and durability, while the low prices for such fine goods is a subject of remark. We keep all widths and sizes, and so fit perfectly. Prices from $3 50 to Congress, however, in response to popular demands, has lopped off some $20,000,000 from the internal revenue taxes, and instead of revising the tariff, has now appointed a Commission, the main purpose of which every one understands to be the postponement of course exceptions to the rule, but the tariff reform. ought not to be an insoluble one. It has been suggested that white girls ould be brought out here to take the place of the Chinese by some contract system, by which they should agree to work out the expenses of their passage. But though this method looks plausible at the first glance, experience proves that it will not answer. In fact it has several times been tried, and it has always broken down, because the contracts cannot be enforced in for lower wages than they can get elsethink, not warranted. There are certainly enough of these thrifty lasses to supply all the wants of California, if they could be induced to come, and nine out of ten of them possess the means to come at their own expense. It is difficult at first to understand how it happens that in all these years the wages of domestic service here and at the East have not been equalized. The fact, however, probably is that the Chinese question has had much to do with it. At first the Chinese were willing to work for very low wages. They took whatever they could get until they found that white labor had been discouraged, and that the demand for them was consequently increasing. Then they demanded the highest current wages, and ever since that time they have maintained the same standard. This we take to be the reason why they have not appeared to underbid their competitors, have not altogether driven the latter away, and men in San Jose, died in that city yesterday, aged have secured high wages for themselves in the long run. They have, however, produced a situation at last in which it becomes possible to push them to the wall, if only we can obtain the kind of immigration we require. Of course it is a difficult matter to do this, but the first step which naturally suggests itself is the adoption of means of informing the class of whose services we stand in need, that there is

THAT CLOSED RAILROAD. Another Step Toward Opening the Road from Folsom to Shingle Springs.

Shingle Springs line of railroad (as familiarly known) has been closed against the public, it having been placed in the hands of a receiver pending litigation concerning certain bonds in this case. issued by the corporation that built the road. known as the Placerville and Sacramento Valley Railroad Company. The stoppage of lic, but of great loss and injury to those who have relied upon it for the transportation of freight to and from this city. The people of El Dorado county and the northern part jury in consequence of the road not being operated, and if not opened again soon they will suffer still more than they yet have done, as the present outlook is favorable for an imuit crop in El Dorado, where reiance has been and must be had upon this road to market the same, as it cannot be successfully done with wagons. The course which has been pursued in this case by the receiver and the party at whose instance he was appointed would seem to be ENTIRELY UNJUSTIFIABLE, And, under the circumstances in this case, in violation of all the principles usually govern-ing the action of receivers in this class of cases. It is the opinion of the best lawyers that the law never contemplated the appointment of a receiver simply for the purpose of closing up operations on a railroad, where such action can result in no benefit to either of the parties litigant, but only in running up a bill of costs and expenses against the property, and leave the public, who are not parties to, or interested in the result of the action, but who are interested in having the toad operated, to suffer the consequences of such dog in the manger proceedings. Soon after trains were withdrawn from the road, Judge C. F. Irwin of Placerville, and John C. Burch of San Francisco, attorney, were employed by the Board of Supervisors of El Dorado county to use their endeavors to have their orad opened again, but the county not being a party to the action, and having no standing in Court, other than as "friends of the Court," they have thus far failed in accomplishing the purpose.

Recently, however, a petition was presented to the Attorney-General for permission to use the name of the People of the State, which, upon a bond against costs and liability being given, was granted. Under this permission these gentlemen, acting as of the Court, were in the state of the consequences of the constraint road operated, to suffer the consequences of

Against the receiver, but this was denied, the Supreme Court holding that if any rem-edy existed it was with the Court appointing the receiver. They have since filed a peti-tion in the Superior Court of San Francisco, and have made a motion in the case, in which appointed, based upon the facts stated in the petition, upon which motion Judge Hunt has made an order directing the receiver to appear in Court on May 30th and show ause why he does not operate the road, and why he should not be removed and another appointed in his stead. Some hopes may ow be entertained that something will be accomplished, and that the road will be pened again in time to move some portion, if not all, of the immense fruit crop likely to be shipped from El Dorado, although me time will be required to move the grass from the track, and make necessary repairs, for nothing has been done in that direction.

THE FACTS Stated in the petition filed, which is the basis of the motion on which Judge Hunt's order was made, may be thus presented: That the railroad line from Folsom to Shingle That in 1877 ncorporated company. passed from the original company to the Sacramento and Placerville Railroad Com-pany, which operated it, carrying passengers ad freight as presented, and continuing to the possession of that company in an actio by Louis McLane against the company to foreclose a mortgage claim against the com-pany. In that action Louis McLane was appointed receiver of the road.

That the order of the Court so appointed the court so appoi the receiver was in force and effect in 1881 and still is in force, and said receiver is now in charge of said line of road. That said line general railroad system of the State of California. That the line of road from Folsom to Shingle Springs is the only railroad leading into or out of the county of El Dorade. That when said road is operated, it does the chief transportation business of the people of El Dorado county and of a large portion of THE PEOPLE OF AMADOR COUNTY.

That it is the of Receiver McLane, under the laws of nia requiring railroad corporations to oad, though both fares and the sport freight and passengers to said con-ng road; has refused to maintain sta-and agents and ticket-sellers on line, though often requested so to the petitioners believe the receiver will con-

Spot lots of No. 1 White are held at $1 71\frac{1}{2}$ against $1 63\frac{1}{2}$ bid. A prominent operator offered to deliver 500 tons was offered, regular way, at the same price. For August deliveries of No. 2 White at Port Costa, $1 63\frac{1}{2}$ was bid against $1 65$ asked.

Bakley—Current business is less active, and the speculative feeling is not quite so pronounced. The number of buyers of Feed on future account is largely reduced, and time sales are being effected at lower rates, owing to the absence of competition. On call to-day two lots of 100 tons each No. 2 Feed, were sold for September delivery at $1 19\frac{1}{2}$ ctl, showing a decline of 60\frac{1}{2}$ ctl on yesterday's transactions. Spot lots of No. 2 Feed are firmly held at $1 75$, and an offer of $1 73\frac{1}{2}$ did not tempt sellers. There was uniform bidding of $1 40 for deliveries of No. 1 Brewing in July, August and September. Chevalier was offered at $1 75 for No. 1, while $1 70 was asked for May deliveries of No. 2 grade.

Oars—It is difficult to find out the exact situation of the market. No public sales have occurred in over a week, and operators are not anxious to impart knowledge in regard to private transactions, it is understood that the holding interest is just now the controlling power, and buyers have to pay asking rates as a rule. A good article is said to be held at from $2 05 to $2 12\frac{1}{2}$, with higher asking
